General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) 2019 – Norfolk Quilters

We keep all members' information securely. We will delete all information when a member has not renewed after five years. Any personal details provided will be held on computer by the current Membership Secretary. The information held on the computer will be confined to name, address, telephone number and e-mail address, year of joining and type of membership.

We only keep information to contact current and recent members in order to distribute the Quilters Quarter Newsletter (quarterly) and to contact members once they have booked on to workshops to give them details of the workshop location and requirements. In addition, the information may be shared only with members of the Norfolk Quilters Committee for the purposes of distribution of the Newsletter, organising social activities and other events run by the committee.

Under no circumstances will the information be shared with any commercial enterprise.

You are not obliged to give any information you do not wish to be held on record. Please bear this in mind when you complete the Norfolk Quilters membership application form.
